Cash is trash.

Our government is printing TRILLIONS of dollars while your cash savings sits at the bank earning 1/14th of 1% per year because it “feels safe.”

Dusty money is idle, unproductive and losing value. Your money is only useful when it’s actually being used.

Don’t earn money and then do nothing with it. Put it to work for you! You’d never hire new employees and tell them to sit on the couch while you wait to see if now is the right time to or if it “feels safe” to have them start working.

It would take your bank acct 238 YEARS to earn what the stock market earned in just the last 2 months.

That's correct. At today's average money market rates, it would take 238 years to get between 16-18% growth, which is what the stock market just did in the past two months.
